Tegra Financial Partners Adds Senior Advisor to Growing Wealth Management Practice

ATLANTA, November 15, 2010– Tegra Financial Partners, LLC announced that Allen Johnson has joined the organization as Managing Director and Partner. Prior to joining Tegra, Johnson held executive positions at several of the nation's largest investment management companies including Morgan Stanley, Raymond James and Oppenheimer & Co.

In his role at Tegra, Johnson will be working with individuals and families to provide them with total wealth management services including asset management consulting, estate planning, retirement planning, education planning, and insurance analysis.

"I believe the key to helping my clients realize their financial objectives is to collaborate with them to craft a customized plan which focuses on achieving their specific goals over a pre-determined time frame. I saw that Tegra was well structured to allow me to provide that kind of service so the decision to join them was easy," Johnson said.

"We are excited to have Allen with us," said Nick Bhandari, Managing Director of Tegra. "His client-centered approach to total wealth management will help us deliver an even higher level of service to our growing client base."
