PRACTICE MANAGEMENT CONSULTING

Habif, Arogeti & Wynne helps physicians and dentists gain new perspectives on their practices, enabling them to become more financially sound, more efficient, and more competitive.

It's our specialty. We work with physicians and dentists in private or group practice settings exclusively to build financial security and improve administration. We work with more than 300 private medical practices.

Our accountants and healthcare consultants bring the experience and the knowledge you'll need to simplify many of the complexities of today's healthcare environment. And HA&W's client care philosophy is equally important to your continued success: We take care to tailor our services to meet your specific needs and deliver the personalized service you deserve.

Enhancing practice operations

You need to be sure your practice structure and business processes are working to your strongest advantage. We'll help you discover what to look for, how to access your situation in a systemic way, and which benchmarks to use for comparison.

Our experience, based on more than 50 years of service to medical practices, will help ensure that your practice is on course. We'll identify opportunities for savings, analyze data, and compare your operations to the relevant local or national standards.

From an administrative and financial efficiency perspective, our comprehensive practice assessment will analyze your procedures and systems, expense controls, regulatory compliance efforts, overhead, and many other operational factors.

- Comprehensive practice assessment
- Revenue enhancement
- Billing and collections analysis and evaluation
- Financial and accounting internal controls
- Practice start-up
- Administrative search and interim management
- Coding audit
- Front office operations
- Human resources compliance issues
- Physician employment contracts
- Development of practice manuals, policies and procedures

Refining benefits programs

From productivity to staff retention to practice competitiveness, HA&W helps you use benefits planning to improve your practice from a staffing perspective.

We understand the challenges you face with your retirement fund design and administration services. Our experts are prepared to guide you.

Firming up the financials

With all the time and performance pressures you face, it's good to know that you can have peace of mind when it comes to revenue, compensation and financial matters.

HA&W Healthcare consulting creates reliable strategies for revenue enhancement, cash flow improvement, expense containment, competitive negotiations, and other improvements.

Our experts offer sound advice when it comes to tax strategies and ownership changes — whether you're acquiring, merging, adding a partner or selling your medical practice.

- Accounting and taxation
 - Tax planning
 - Tax return preparation
 - Financial statement preparation
- Business development and marketing plans
- Physician compensation models
